Senator Mallory McMorrow of the 8th District offered the following invocation:

Keep alive within us the flame of hope so that with patience and perseverance we may opt for dialogue and reconciliation. In this way, may peace triumph at last and may the words “division,” “hatred,” and “war” be banished from the heart of every man and woman. Lord, defuse the violence of our tongues and our hands. Renew our hearts and minds so that the word which always brings us together will be “brother,” and our way of life will always be that of: Shalom, Peace, Salaam! Amen.

The Assistant President pro tempore, Senator Geiss, led the members of the Senate in recital of the Pledge of Allegiance.

Resolutions

Senator Singh moved that rule 3.204 be suspended to permit immediate consideration of the following resolutions:

Senate Resolution No. 29

Senate Resolution No. 30

Senate Resolution No. 31

Senate Resolution No. 32

The motion prevailed, a majority of the members serving voting therefor.

Senators Chang, Singh, Cavanagh, Bayer, Wojno, Camilleri, Hertel, Shink and Irwin offered the following resolution:

Senate Resolution No. 29.

A resolution to designate April 20-26, 2025, as Infertility Awareness Week.

Whereas, Infertility is defined as the inability to conceive after one year or longer of trying to have a child; and

Whereas, According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, one in eight couples suffer from infertility; and

Whereas, Infertility affects women and men equally, with male infertility being a factor in roughly 50 percent of cases; and

Whereas, In the United States, nine percent of men and 11 percent of women have experienced fertility issues; and

Whereas, The most common types of fertility treatment are in vitro fertilization (IVF) and intrauterine insemination (IUI); and

Whereas, Infertility can cause psychological distress, emotional stress, and financial difficulties for couples who can experience feelings of anger, guilt, sadness, depression, anxiety, and a loss of self-confidence and self-esteem; and

Whereas, Raising awareness about infertility can remove barriers to care; and

Whereas, Educating others on infertility can remove the stigma and increase empathy and sympathy towards those facing infertility problems; and

Whereas, It is critical that the state of Michigan explores solutions to ensure greater access to infertility treatment so that more citizens are able to start or grow their families; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate, That the members of this legislative body designate April 20-26, 2025, as Infertility Awareness Week; and be it further

Resolved, That we join The National Infertility Association and dedicated volunteers, health care professionals, and members of the infertility and family building community by participating in this promotion.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution,

The resolution was adopted.

Senators Geiss, McMorrow, Moss and Santana were named co-sponsors of the resolution.

Senator Chang asked and was granted unanimous consent to make a statement and moved that the statement be printed in the Journal.

The motion prevailed.

Senator Chang's statement is as follows:

This resolution before us today marks April 20-26 as Infertility Awareness Week, which is being celebrated around the world. Infertility is an issue that affects over 300,000 Michiganders of childbearing age, a number that is only growing. Infertility is commonly thought of as a woman's issue, but the reality is that it affects men as well. Approximately 9 percent of men and 11 percent of women in the United States experience infertility during their childbearing years. Other circumstances, such as autoimmune disorders that prevent the body from carrying a baby, combat wounds, mental health conditions, and side effects from cancer treatment, can prohibit people from starting a family on their own. Infertility can also have effects on mental health. It causes feelings of inadequacy, sadness or despair, anger or frustration, and hopelessness. It can affect a family's finances, influencing a family's decision about career paths, when or where to purchase a home or start a business, or even what type of car they might want to buy.

Thankfully, assisted reproductive technologies such as IUI and IVF make it possible for these families to grow. The treatments and fertility drugs can affect your mood and the health of other parts of your body, including an increase of certain kinds of cancers. Many Michiganders are eager to start a family but are affected by infertility. I can look around this room and know that several here or your family members have been touched by infertility. Some have shared their stories and their family's journey. Some suffer silently.

As some of you know, earlier this year I donated eggs to my sister as she and my brother-in-law try again to start their family. I asked her what she would want me to say when we adopt this resolution, and she said:

Pretty much every time we start talking to people in our lives about this process, they inevitably bring up someone they know who's gone through it. After Tim Walz talked about his family's challenges, I learned about more prominent figures who also have dealt with infertility and gone through IVF to build their families. But if you talked to me seven years ago, I wouldn't have known any of this and I didn't know that I really should have had my fertility tested a lot sooner than I did. A lot of people are out there going through it and it's only when we entered into that community ourselves did we learn just how many. Also, yes, the cost was extremely prohibitive when we were younger and should have been testing and making embryos. It's hard, and it can be very lonely, but it really, really doesn't have to be.

Today, I'm honored to support the thousands of people affected by infertility and offer this resolution to bring awareness to this issue. Awareness and education can help demystify infertility, making help and solutions more accessible. It is my hope that during this legislative term, we can work in a bipartisan bicameral way to make IVF and other assisted reproductive technology more affordable here in our state and enact other policies that help people trying to start their families.

Senator Santana offered the following resolution:

Senate Resolution No. 30.

A resolution to designate May 4-10, 2025, as Tardive Dyskinesia Awareness Week.

Whereas, Serious mental illnesses such as bipolar disorder, major depressive disorders, and schizophrenia require treatment with antipsychotic medications for effective management, while antipsychotic prescribing rates continue to rise; and

Whereas, While prolonged antipsychotic use may be essential for the treatment of certain conditions, it is often associated with tardive dyskinesia (TD), a condition marked by uncontrollable, abnormal, and repetitive movements of the face, torso, limbs, or extremities; and

Whereas, Those at a higher risk of TD include individuals older than 55, Black individuals, women, individuals with mood or substance use disorders, intellectual disabilities, or central nervous system injuries, and those with high cumulative antipsychotic exposure; and

Whereas, Approximately 60 percent of the estimated 800,000 American adults living with TD remain undiagnosed; and

Whereas, Even mild TD symptoms can be stigmatizing and impair physical, social, and emotional well-being, underscoring the urgency of early screening, detection, and intervention; and

Whereas, The American Psychiatric Association recommends routine TD screening in their clinical guidelines for antipsychotic treatment. Individuals treated with antipsychotics or experiencing abnormal movements should consult their healthcare providers to assess TD risk, receive TD screenings, and determine appropriate treatment together; and

Whereas, FDA-approved treatments for TD can provide options for symptom management and improved quality of life for many individuals living with TD; and

Whereas, We encourage TD screening education and awareness for health care providers, patients, and care partners to help ensure patients prescribed antipsychotics receive care and support that aligns with clinical best practices, including regular TD screenings; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate, That the members of this legislative body designate May 4-10, 2025, as Tardive Dyskinesia Awareness Week; and be it further

Resolved, That we encourage anyone experiencing uncontrollable, abnormal, and repetitive movements to consult their healthcare provider regarding their symptoms.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution,

The resolution was adopted.

Senators Geiss and McMorrow were named co-sponsors of the resolution.

Senator Santana asked and was granted unanimous consent to make a statement and moved that the statement be printed in the Journal.

The motion prevailed.

Senator Santana's statement is as follows:

Tardive Dyskinesia Awareness Week is observed annually the first week of May. This year, Tardive Dyskinesia Awareness Week is May 4 through May 10. This week is dedicated to raising awareness about tardive dyskinesia—TD—a movement disorder caused by long-term use of certain medications, particularly anti-psychotics.

TD is characterized by voluntary repetitive movements such as lip smacking, grimacing, and tongue movements. These symptoms can range from mild to severe, and can significantly impact daily activities and quality of life. TD affects more than 500,000 Americans, yet it remains a largely misunderstood and stigmatized condition. Increasing awareness helps reduce the stigma associated with TD and supports those living with the condition. Educating the public about TD can lead to a better understanding of and empathy for those affected. Awareness efforts can also promote early detection and proper treatment which are crucial for managing symptoms and improving outcomes, encouraging open conversations about TD to help those affected feel supported and understood. Advocates for access and new treatments that can reduce symptoms improve the quality of life for people with TD.

Tardive Dyskinesia Awareness Week is a vital opportunity to shine a light on this condition and support those who live with it every day. By getting involved and spreading awareness, we can make a meaningful difference in the lives of the people affected by TD.

Senators Hertel, McCann and Wojno offered the following resolution:

Senate Resolution No. 31.

A resolution to designate April 2025 as Limb Loss and Limb Difference Awareness Month.

Whereas, There are over 5.6 million Americans living with limb loss and limb difference with 500,000 new cases occurring each year; and

Whereas, In the United States (U.S.), approximately 35,000 children are born each year with congenital limb difference and 600 children lose a limb to a lawn mower accident every summer; and

Whereas, Diabetes, vascular disease, and infection are the most common diagnoses preceding an amputation; and

Whereas, Studies have shown that behaviors such as diabetes management, properly treating wounds, and observing safety practices can be effective in preventing amputations; and

Whereas, Access to appropriate prosthetic care for people living with limb loss and limb difference is vital to enable individuals to reach their full potential and live healthy, independent lives with the ability to engage in activities of daily living, essential job-related functions, personal hygiene, and physical activity to maximize whole body and mental wellbeing; and

Whereas, The Amputee Coalition provides education, support, and advocacy through the National Limb Loss Resource Center for the benefit of persons with limb loss and limb difference, their families, and health care providers throughout the U.S.; and

Whereas, April is an appropriate month to designate as Limb Loss and Limb Difference Awareness Month as spring is a time of renewal and inspiration; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate, That the members of this legislative body designate April 2025 as Limb Loss and Limb Difference Awareness Month.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution,

The resolution was adopted.

Senators Daley, McMorrow, Moss and Santana were named co-sponsors of the resolution.

Senators Webber, Victory, Bellino, Huizenga, Bayer, Polehanki, Wojno, Klinefelt, Lauwers, Chang, Damoose and Lindsey offered the following resolution:

Senate Resolution No. 32.

A resolution to designate April 2025 as Autism Acceptance Month.

Whereas, Autism, also known as Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD), is a neurodevelopmental disorder that affects millions of people worldwide and is characterized by difficulties in social interaction, communication, and repetitive behaviors; and

Whereas, Autism affects individuals in unique ways and can range from mild to severe, requiring different levels of support and services; and

Whereas, Autism Acceptance Day is observed on the second Tuesday of April each year as a time to raise awareness and understanding about autism and to celebrate the unique strengths and abilities of individuals on the autism spectrum; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate, That the members of this legislative body designate April 2025 as Autism Acceptance Month. We acknowledge and support individuals with autism and their families, and affirm our commitment to promoting understanding, acceptance, and inclusion of individuals on the autism spectrum in all aspects of community life; and be it further

Resolved, That we acknowledge and celebrate the contributions of individuals on the autism spectrum to our society and support efforts to provide them with equal opportunities. We call upon all members of our community to work together to create a more inclusive and supportive environment for individuals on the autism spectrum and to raise awareness about the importance of early intervention and access to services.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution,

The resolution was adopted.

Senators Daley, Geiss, Johnson, McMorrow, Santana and Theis were named co-sponsors of the resolution.

Senator Webber asked and was granted unanimous consent to make a statement and moved that the statement be printed in the Journal.

The motion prevailed.

Senator Webber's statement is as follows:

I rise to ask for support of my resolution recognizing April as Autism Awareness Month in the state of Michigan. The CDC now estimates that one in 36 children and one in 44 adults have autism across the United States. It is often said that if you know one person with autism, you know one person with autism. Autism spectrum disorder affects millions of people in many unique ways. This neurodevelopmental disorder involves communication, behavior, and social interaction challenges. These can range from mild to severe, and often require a wide variety of diverse support services. For some, autism is deeply personal, but ASD touches many of us as it knows no political or social boundaries.

My son was diagnosed with autism at three years old. My wife and I noticed speech development delays and his struggles with social interaction. This diagnosis came as a shock to our family. It took time for us to understand what it really meant. Embracing autism meant learning everything we could about our son’s needs; it meant finding the right services and therapies to help him; it meant connecting with families further along the same path; and it meant reading books, attending conferences, and seeking expert guidance.

As legislators, we have a duty to ensure Michigan meets modern diagnostic and care standards. That means providing access to the right care plans as we continue to grow in our understanding of autism. I’ve been honored to co-chair the Michigan Legislature Autism Advocates Caucus and work with my colleagues on both sides of the aisle to support these families. I’m especially grateful to my colleague from the 28th District—thank you for joining me in introducing bills to reduce misdiagnoses and improve autism care statewide.

Autism Awareness Month is a time to celebrate and reflect. We recognize the important work ahead, but also the incredible accomplishments we’ve experienced. More individuals living with autism today are thriving and contributing to their communities in amazing ways. Please join me in celebrating these wonderful individuals and affirming our commitment to support their care and success.
